Gowan Brae

Scottish name meaning “a hill of daisies” – was completed in 1889 as the graceful and elegant home of Sir James Burns K.C.M.G., M.L.C., and during its long and colourful history has been the site of many grand occasions.

From 1955 this fine estate was the home of The King’s School Preparatory School for many years. Now The Preparatory School is situated adjacent to Gowan Brae and will play host to the exhibition and sale of art, jewellery, the market place and gourmet food, as well as the prestigious King’s School Art Prize.

Having already won wide acclaim, The King’s School Art Show is celebrating its 31st anniversary.

We invite you to celebrate with us!
